The Meeting

It's the dog days of summer and several of us arrived late. Ken Giss led the parade and was fined $2, followed by Bibi Goldstein for $3, I was third with a $4 fine and Jeff Wilson was last with a $5 fine.

Ken introduced his guest, the world famous Judy, who then gave us a happy dollar for being here.

Stan Ralls lambasted the NCAA for penalizing USC. Stan felt the charges were not proven and there was no hard evidence of any infractions by Reggie Bush.

Ken attended an iftar dinner that celebrates the end of the Ramadan fast.

Bibi spent the weekend saying goodbye to her younger sister who is moving to Connecticut. Since this coincided with the end of Ramadan, she had a full house with more than enough nieces and nephews. She also had time to attend the Sunday evening concert at Polliwog Park.

Jeff was back from a Big Bear vacation. When Madame President suggested a fine, Jeff went on about his injury water skiing. When the boat started, his leg moved in the wrong direction and now he's hobbling around. Madame President showed mercy by fining Jeff $5.

Bill Glavin has revised Dave Dinwiddie's nickname from Double D to Triple D. You'll have to ask Dave what the third D stands for.

As the most immediate past president, Jeff fined DeAnn $5,000 for blatantly advertising South Bay Business Lawyers.

Madame President announced she will be on a "personal" retreat this weekend and fined herself a whopping $1 for the retreat. DeAnn's daughter was so upset that DeAnn was not going to stay for Alex's third performance that she almost lost her voice. Jeff thought the dollar for her retreat was inadequate and fined the president $10.

Seeing there are large discounts on vacation fines, Jim Packard announced he is off for the next few weeks.

DeAnn was watching Kick Buttowski on the Disney Channel when she was surprised to hear one of the dad's talk about his being an actuary. DeAnn got a few shots in on actuaries being dull and was fined $5 by Jeff for dissing me.

Ken tossed in $2 for being happy.

DD's mom had her surgery and is doing well.

Don Metcalf got the new iPhone and thinks it's great.

Ken gets to relax over the High Holy Days. It's the first year that he won't lead the day long services.

Bibi's relatives have gone and now she and Mark are celebrating the newfound quiet.

Jim's happy dollar is in anticipation of this week's Kiwanis Golf Tournament.

DeAnn did see her daughter perform in the show Annie for two consecutive performances on Saturday and then she (DeAnn) rested.

Don Freeman's daughter married a school teacher and was surprised how dangerous it could be. he got hit accidentally and ended up with eight stitches.

I had three sad dollars, the first two was my neighbor's golden retriever attacked my dog while my 92 year old mom was walking her. Mom was bowled over by the retriever trying to attack Gracie. The retriever took a chunk out of my Gracie's back. The third sad dollar was for our government at work. The IRS closed down the post office box for annual retirement plan filings without telling anyone. These filings carry a $25 a day late filing penalty.

Jeff reminisced when he and Karen were vacationing in Budapest. Jeff decided that they could take a short-cut by jumping over a fence. When guard dog showed up, Jeff calmed him down enough so that they could climb back over the fence without injury.

Bibi was sad her sister is moving to Connecticut. One of her clients contracted throat cancer and has asked Bibi to step in and run his business while he's recuperating.

Madame President celebrates her birthday on Friday.

Anniversaries

Bibi and Mark celebrate their 9th anniversary together. Bibi had $10 to celebrate the occasion.
