JURY DUTY STEEPED IN HISTORY: Our guest speaker, Judge Mike Heavey took us through his preparatory remarks to a panel of prospective jurors called on for selection to produce a verdict in a trial before his court. The tradition of jury trials was imbedded in jurisprudence in America through the United States Constitution. Judge Heavey instructs the potential jurors in the sanctity of the judgment society is entrusting to them along with the protocols of their service and behavior. Each of them is asked to stand, give his name, employment and social relationships. Each is assigned a juror number which is his/her sole identity during the ensuing trial. Judge Heavey presented an entertaining perspective on volunteerism and the judicial system.
